SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE

Every Democrat in the District Should Have voice in Making Their Nominee.—Mr. Franklin Wants No Democrat Disfranchised.—Let All Participate in Making Nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney.—Interesting Correspondence.

Considerable interest has been aroused here in the race for Commonwealth's Attorney of this the Fourteenth Circuit Court District, by some correspondence which passed between County Judge James H. Polsgrove and Commonwealth's Attorney Robt. B. Franklin, both of Franklin county, and both of whom are candidates for the place for the next term of six years, as is Mr. Neville C. Fisher, of Bourbon county.

The correspondence that passed between the two candidates is as follows:

JUDGE POLSGROVE'S LETTER.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 5, 1908.

Hon. Robert B. Franklin, City:

Dear Sir:—I take the liberty to write you concerning the race for Commonwealth's Attorney of the Fourteenth Circuit Court District. I deem it unfortunate that you and I residents of the same county, should aspire to the same position, and as our relations in the past have always been pleasant, and our friends, to a large extent, are mutual, I feel that the proposition I shall make should be considered a reasonable one.

For either of us to make the race without the solid support of Franklin county seems to me unwise. I am sure that the voters in the other counties of the district will demand that the people of this county shall decide for themselves upon the candidate they desire to offer. Therefore, I propose to you that we submit the question as to which of us shall make the race to the Democrats of Franklin county.

As to the method by which the question shall be settled, I agree to go with you before the Democratic County Committee and ask that you be given your choice between a county mass convention, precinct conventions, or a primary election.

If by this means you are found to be the choice of our home people, no one will more cheerfully abide by it than myself, and I will lend whatever assistance I can, in securing your nomination. I could not accept the nomination for an office without having the endorsement of my own county, and I presume that you feel the same way about it.

The plan above suggested, as I believe, is the best way to ascertain the sentiment of the voters of Franklin county on the subject, and I sincerely hope it will receive your favorable consideration.

Very respectfully yours,

Signed JAMES H. POLSGROVE.

MR. FRANKLIN'S REPLY.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 7, 1908.

Judge James H. Polsgrove,

Frankfort, Ky.

Dear Sir:—Your favor dated Frankfort Ky., Sept. 5, 1908, postmarked, Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 6, 1908, 8:30 a. m., is received.

In answer, I desire to say it is true that our relations in the past have been pleasant and if they do not continue so, it shall be no fault of mine. It is equally true that our friends, to a very large extent, are mutual, and it is my desire that nothing may transpire during the progress of the contest for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney in this district to in any way engender animosities among them. Realizing these facts, has had much to do with determining me in what I have to say below.

Your proposition is that we submit the question as to which of us shall make the race, to the Democrats of Franklin county and that you go with me before the County Committee and ask that I be given my choice between a county mass convention, precinct conventions and a primary election.

Neither you nor I, nor any one, has the right under the party law to have the matter submitted, as you propose, to the Democrats of any one county in the district. If we did such a thing, neither you nor I could have any assurance that another man from this county would not announce his candidacy for the nomination.

In such a contingency, I suppose we would have to go through another contest in this county before the one receiving county's endorsement under your proposition could go before the district as a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the district. To save the least of it, which ever should win the endorsement in this county, would have to make two races before he could possibly be the nominee of the Democratic party in this district—all of which is, to my mind, unreasonable.

I believe that such a course would be in disregard of the rights of the individual Democrats in the district as well as of the rights of any one who may desire to be a candidate for this nomination.

I think you express an unwarranted assumption when you say 'I am sure that the voters in the other counties of the district will demand that the people of this county shall decide for themselves upon the candidate they desire to offer.' It is my belief that the great mass of the individual Democrats

N. C. Fisher Interviewed.

Mr. N. C. Fisher, the candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney for this District, from Bourbon county, was Wednesday interviewed by a reporter of the Bourbon News as follows:

"Have you seen the correspondence between you opponents, Mr. Franklin and Judge Polsgrove, as to the Commonwealth's Attorney race?"

"Yes, I read it as published in the newspapers and Mr. Franklin also sent me a copy of it."

"Have you any comment to make upon it?"

"Well, so far as the controversy between those two, exclusively, is concerned, I have nothing to say except that I hope it will develop (and this in good humor) into as hot a fight as that related in the dorky story told by Governor Taylor, of Tennessee."

"What was that?"

"Well, an old darkey was describing to Governor Taylor a fight between two mountain panthers. He said: 'One day I seen two panthers fightin'. It was de hottes' fight you ever seen. They fit and they fit until they got clean up off'n de groun', an' finally dey went up into de air and riz way out of sight, an' after that the fur was fallin' fer fo' days.'"

"What about having a convention or a primary?"

"There are many arguments for and against each method. In a three-cornered race, as this is, a plurality of the votes cast would nominate, when as a matter of fact the ultimate choice of an almost two-third majority of the district might be for someone else."

"Then a primary is much more expensive to the candidates?"

"On the other hand, a primary is more convenient to those who live a long distance from the county seat. As to the question of fairness each is open to the grossest abuse and fraud."

"In the convention the trickery is more open and therefore better known and more condemned. In the primary it is more or less covered up but equally effective, and harder to prove."

"I have noticed that a candidate generally advocates that method which he considers most likely to result in his success, and does not stop to consider the question of whether the people shall rule or not."

"As for myself, I do not want the nomination if I have to obtain it by any unfairness, treachery or fraud."

"I hope that the method adopted by the committee will give the opportunity for a fair expression of the will of the people without imposing any unnecessary burdens upon any of the candidates."

THEATRICAL.

GOOD ONE AT THE GRAND.

It seems as though each succeeding performance at the Grand is better than the previous one. The bill the first part of this week was a good one, but the one which opened last night was a hummer. Probably the most unique act of the season was that of Leslie and Black. With both limbs amputated, Mr. Leslie presented an act marvelous in its nature and miraculous in its production. Without a doubt it was received with more genuine enthusiasm than any of the previous good ones seen here this season. Frank Mac also presents a most pleasing act. His paper tearing specialty was especially pleasing to the ladies and Mr. Jackson is being besieged with requests for the beautiful designs which he furnishes nightly out of a plain sheet of white paper. His talk singing and dancing specialty also made a big hit. (Go tonight and tomorrow. After that it will be too late and you will be sorry you missed it. Tonight a big bunch of amateurs.

HORTENSE NIELSEN IN 'MAGDA.'

Hortense Nielsen and her company of players will be seen at the Paris Grand on Monday, Sept. 14, in Herman Sudermann's powerful drama "Magda," a psychological study of character in four acts. "Magda" is the product of the most fertile mind in modern German literature and with its powerful emotions, subtle reasoning and splendid technique offers unusual opportunities to an actress of Miss Nielsen's excellent capabilities.

The story of the play revolves about the parental authority which a strict disciplinarian father, Col. Schwartz, wishes to exercise over his eldest daughter "Magda," who had left home under a cloud and returns in the splendor of her fame as an opera singer.

"Magda" had suffered much, had been cast off, had struggled against poverty and illness and believes that she has fairly won her freedom to act as she thinks best.

Her father demands that she marry the author of her dishonor but when the latter Von Keller, a public official, stipulates that she shall disown her child and place it in an asylum to hide his own shame, her indignation grows beyond control and in a speech of powerful denunciation she asserts her right to independence absolutely free from any controlling influence.

The play is soul stirring in its intensity, its tendency is the uplifting of woman; it is a play to be enjoyed, to be studied and reflected upon by every thinking man and woman.

Miss Nielsen who has for years striven worthily to present the best plays, deserves the patronage of the lovers of the theatre and it is to be hoped that the artist will be greeted by an audience of such large and intelligent proportions as to be an encouragement to an actress of her great talent. Miss Nielsen comes to this city direct from her week's engagement at Macaulay's theatre, Louisville.

Capture Cargo of Liquor.

The following special from Carlisle appeared in Tuesday's dailies:

"Chief of Police Dunn and Constable Parker received a tip that liquor would be brought to town, and they 'laid' for the smugglers. As a result of their vigilance, a cargo of wet goods was captured, consisting of six barrels of beer and three cases of whisky."

"Ed Graham, colored, and Ed Welis, white, who were in charge of the wagon, were arrested. The liquor was shipped from Paris, Ky., and it is said to have been consigned to Pres Strother, colored, for 'blind-tiger' operations. Strother is to be arrested."

"The wagon belonged to C. J. Martin, who was taken into custody when he came here seeking recovery of the vehicle. He is charged with violating the local option law."

"The seizure of the liquor was made about a mile and a half from town."

Martin was tried Wednesday before County Judge McNew at Carlisle and was fined $100. Parties from Carlisle went to his stable here and hired the wagon to take some things to Carlisle, not stating what it was they wanted to take to that city. Although an innocent party to the transaction Martin was fined as above stated. He appealed to Circuit Court.

Two Murders.

Negro Meets Horrible Death.

Chas. Johnson, a negro employed at the coal chutes of the L. & N. railroad, in this city, met a horrible death at an early hour Sunday morning when the big steam shovel picked him up with a lot of coal and dumped its contents into the receiving chute. As the big shovel which was being elevated by a steam gearing apparatus, to be emptied of its load, the engineer observed something hanging over the sides of the conveyor which looked like the legs of a man. Climbing to the top of the chute he looked down and saw the mangled and bruised body of Johnson which was taken from its perilous position. His chest was crushed and nearly every bone in his body broken. Johnson, it is said, had been drinking Saturday night, and had laid down on the pile of coal to take a nap, his presence being unknown to the engineer or employees in charge. Johnson, who resided in the negro suburb of Claysville, died within a few hours.

Practical Wisdom.

William Allen White, the Kansas newspaper man, who gained national fame by his clear-cut statements on every question he handles in a short article, makes some points which are crowded full of common sense and practical wisdom. In speaking of the need of the times, he says:

"The demand of the times is for men who are willing to take off their coats and go to work. The country has plenty of lawyers, musicians and preachers and editors and others who conspicuously fail to make two bales of hay grow where one grew before. The professions are all overcrowded, the offices are full of men who are growing hungry on genteel refinement; the streets are being worn smooth by weary feet of countless thousands of gifted and highly educated individuals who are filled with an unspeakable yearning to accept lucrative positions, but he never thinks of hunting jobs.
Every situation that involves an arm chair is besieged by clamoring applicants. When a city business man advertises for a cashier or bookkeeper he has to hire a platoon of police to protect him from the answering throng.
There are too many lily fingers in the country and not enough hands with blisters on them."

Protecting Infant Industry.

Certainly it must be disheartening to Republican publishers to have the paper trust right in the midst of a campaign, raise the price of its product, and just after they had seized the Congressional Investigating Committee's report that "the present tendency of the news print paper was downward" to flaunt in the public's face. It is to be hoped that these same publishers will show the proper patience and humility, and that when they pay their bills they will realize that they are patriotically protecting a helpless infant industry, which would perish were it not permitted to collect toll of the country editors all over the land.

Not Apathy.

Former Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, volunteers a theory that "what some people have termed apathy among the voters of the country is not that at all. It is nothing more than universal contentment with conditions as they are—with the present administration of affairs by the Republican party."

Mr. Thurston is mistaken both as to the apathy and universal contentment, says the New York World. Not since 1896 has there been more political dissatisfaction "with conditions as they are." The causes are not the same everywhere; the manifestations are not the same everywhere; but what is called apathy in the campaign is only the blind groping of voters in search of an adequate means of expressing their dissatisfaction, or the silent evidence of their disappointment in failing thus far to find such means.

There is political unrest everywhere.
Business is still dull. Hundreds of thousands of men are still unemployed or work only part of the time. While the income diminishes, the cost of living advances. Taxes are high. The satisfied voter is the exception, not the rule. Wall street is no less discontented than the ditch-digger.

In Maine the desire for change takes the form of a revolt against prohibition; in New York in a crusade against bossism; in Connecticut in a protest against corporation government. In Ohio, Indiana and Illinois the state administrations are unpopular. In West Virginia and Iowa the Republican party is split into factions, engaged in open warfare. In Wisconsin nothing but the party label distinguishes a Bryan Democrat from a La Follette Republican.

The east is tired of Roosevelt and Rooseveltism. In Kansas, Nebraska and the Middle West generally an uprising against reactionary government.
Bristow defeated Long for Senator in Kansas. A bitter Cummins and anti-Cummins fight for the Senatorship is in progress in Iowa. Foss in Illinois threatens to carry the contest against Hopkins to the Legislature. The La Follette men in Wisconsin also talk of repudiating the decision of the state primary and carrying the fight against Senator Steinhilber to the Legislature.
The radical Democrats went to the Republican primaries in South Dakota to keep the radical Republican elements in control.

Not in years have party lines been more loosely drawn or voters more disposed to put principles and men above party labels. The opportunity of the Democratic party in the coming election lies in making itself an effective instrument for this spirit of protest.
Great independent vote can be won if the Democracy and its candidates prove before election day that they deserve this vote and can appeal to its confidence.

Will Fall in Line.

Any bad feeling that resulted from the Lexington Convention is rapidly disappearing. As soon as the bolters had time to cool off and realize the ridiculous and untenable position in which they had placed themselves they were ready to set themselves right.
The most of them have declared for Cantrill and announced their determination to give him a hearty support.
All of them will fall into line. The Ashland district will give as usual Democratic majority in November.

The War is Over.

"Mr. Roosevelt carried Missouri and some of the border states. Mr. Taft wants to carry at least one of the 'solidly Southern' States. If hard work can get him what he wants it will be his. It is an engaging feature of the present contest that the Republicans finally have found that a part of the South at least is debatable ground.
The fact means much for the country."—Chicago Evening Post.

Verily, the war is over when a Northern newspaper can see in the financial benefit of one or, at most, two Southern States, a fact that "means much for the Country," says Louisville Times.

Should Mr. Taft make an effort to carry North Carolina or Tennessee, there's no denying that the Republicans in those States will face the coming winter with less concern at the prospect of hard times, thanks to the enforced generosity of Mr. Taft's campaign committee, but aside from the financial benefit they derive, there will be nothing to show for the hard work and good money expended in the delusive hope of carrying a Southern State.

It would not be neighborly for Democrats to grudge Mr. Taft's giving the Southern Republicans all they ask for.
It would not be Democratic not to hope sincerely that he will pursue just such a course. There'd be that much less money to spend in States where it might do him good.

Government Homesteads and How to Secure Them.

From Collier's Weekly, February 1, 1908.

Wanted: An Opening.

"Where is this place? One who lives in an Eastern city writes this letter, one who is typical, surely, of many in whom adversity lately has caused serious thought about their lot in life:

"Is there any section in these United States to which the many men who are being daily thrown out of employment in the cities may emigrate and begin life again—begin this time as their own masters, or in some way that will secure them against being thrown out again at the next panic? The class to which I refer is composed of unmarried young Americans of the intelligent, physically hardy and ambitious type seen so frequently during the good times in banks and offices—clerks, salesmen and the like, who have saved up from $500 to $1,000.

"Obviously there are such places, and there are answers to this man more truthful and cheerful than to lament the passing of Government free homesteads in the West."

Free Homesteads in the West have not yet passed away.

Ferguson County, Montana, contains over 1,000,000 acres of farm land open for homestead entry. In Custer, Yellowstone and Rosebud Counties there are several million acres of government land open for entry. In Butte County, South Dakota, are thousands of acres awaiting homesteaders.

The land is excellent for general or mixed farming, and Uncle Sam gives you a cordial invitation to go out and help yourself to a 160-acre farm. No drawing is necessary; first come, first served. When patented this land is worth from $10 to $18 per acre, and will constantly increase in value. The government fees do not exceed $42 for homesteading 160 acres. Since the time when the more adventurous of the early settlers struggled over the Allegheny mountains, there has never been a better opportunity for the ambitious young American than is now offered in the west by the building of this latest transcontinental railway—the Pacific Coast Extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

A pamphlet on "Government Homesteads and How to Secure Them" is free for the asking; also several other publications giving information about this new country, of interest to the workmen, farmer, orchardist, stockman, merchant, professional man and investor.

Millions of Acres Open for Entry.

The opinion prevails to a certain extent that the Government Homestead law has ceased to operate because so little agricultural land is now owned by the Government. THIS OPINION IS ERRONEOUS. There yet remain millions of acres of good farming land open for homestead entry, but until recently this land was useless for farming, owing to the great distance it was located from a railroad. So far as certain portions of South Dakota, North Dakota and Eastern Montana are concerned this condition has changed.

The Pacific Coast Line of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway opens to settlement thousands of acres of the best farming lands. Already enterprising American farmers are securing homesteads along this new line. Trains are already in operation on this new line as far as Harlowton, Mont., connecting there for Moore, Lewistown and other points in the Judith Basin, Montana. It is expected that trains will reach Butte in the Summer of 1908, and Seattle and Tacoma by the Spring of 1909.

Men's Dress.

Men are dressed as they are chiefly because fewer of them look ridiculous so clothed than they would in any other costume. Modern dress is merciful to men; it gives no undue advantage to the well-built and handsome—indeed, it detracts from their appearance and modifies the figures of those not blessed with a fine physique.—Court Journal.

Socialism and Religion.

My whole religion is not socialism, but Christ. The difficulty which the church feels in contact with most of the socialists of the day, with many, indeed, of the workmen even when they are not socialists, is that they are ruled by certain social ideals, concerned especially, though not exclusively, with the exaltation of their own class.—British Congregationalist.

Advantages of Wit.

Man could direct his ways by plain reason, and support his life by tasteless food; but God has given us wit, and flavor, and brightness, and laughter, and perfumers, to enliven the days of man's pilgrimage, and to "charm his pained steps over the burning marie."—Sydney Smith.

Money Matters.

In all money matters a fair start is essential, and there should be a clear understanding about it from the first. Begging for money is undignified, to say the least. Cat Adopted Woodchucks.

On the same day that a litter of kittens was drowned at the home of Frank Plotts, near Inez, Pa., Mr. Plott's sons killed a woodchuck in the woods near the house and brought home from the animal's nest four young "chucks." These were offered to the mother cat, and to the surprise of the family she carried them to her bed and has since mothered them.

Remedies for Minor Accidents.

When children go barefooted accidents are almost sure to occur. If a rusty nail is run into the foot use a piece of fat salt meat, binding it to the wound. This heals the wound in a few hours. If the foot is badly injured with flesh torn, while severe, there is nothing that effects a cure more speedily than an application of arnica or turpentine, the latter for small scratches.

Makes Three Great Flights.

In a flight in his aeroplane at Fort Myer Wednesday afternoon Orville E. Wright broke his own record made Wednesday morning by remaining in the air 62 minutes and 15 seconds. Secretary of War Wright, Secretary of the Navy Metcalfe and other Government officials witnessed the performance. The distance traveled in the record-breaking flight of 62 minutes and 15 seconds, was estimated at 38.5 miles. Later Mr. Wright made another flight, Lieut. Lahm, of the Signal Corps, accompanying him. The aeroplane remained in the air six minutes and landed successfully after covering a distance of about five miles. This is the record for the aeroplane with two persons aboard.

Suit Against Traction Company.

Jeff Elgin, Jr., of this city, catcher for the Lexington base ball club, has filed suit in the Fayette Circuit Court against the Blue Grass Traction Company for $10,000 damages. The plaintiff alleges that while riding from Donerail on a Georgetown Interurban car he was insulted and threatened with ejection by the conductor, and upon the arrival of the car in Lexington was arrested at the instance of the conductor and locked up in the station-house. Paris People Appreciative.

That the Paris people appreciated the coming of the five hundred Lexingtonians to the fair last week was demonstrated yesterday good and "strong." "Borrowed From the Night."

Miss Anna C. Minogue, the talented authoress, of Carlisle, through her publishers, P. J. Kennedy & Son, of New York, has just put on sale her new novel, "Borrowed From the Night." This is Miss Minogue's second novel, her first, "Cardome," meeting with a large sale, as no doubt the second one will, as it deserves.

"Borrowed From the Night" has for its setting the early days in the State of Kentucky. She has endeavored to draw a true picture of the troubles and handicaps that fell to the lot of the pioneers, and well has she succeeded. The story is very interesting and it is tempered with the romance of a Miss Martines, whose parents were murdered in a mysterious manner by a hidden enemy, whose scheming for revenge for a wrong done him many years before, prompts him to work out his "satisfaction" on her and those nearest to her.

It is a novel with merit and puts Miss Minogue in the list of Kentucky's gifted authors. The book is now on sale at the Paris Book Store and should be read by all Kentuckians.

After Earlywine's Scalp.

Republican politics are warming up a little in Paris. As usual, they are after the pie that is handed out from Washington. Postmaster J. L. Earlywine, whose term of office expires January 25, 1909, is a candidate to succeed himself. Mr. Dol Moore with C. O. Wilmoth for assistant are announced candidates, and have been active in securing endorsements. The fight will be a hot one and is a rather mixed up affair.

Moore has the endorsement of the Republican County Committee, and a large list of business men.

Earlywine's strong pull, so it is claimed by his friends, will be right at the fountain head, where the pie is handled.

Senator-elect Bradley, who secured Earlywine's appointment before, is said to be against him now and will fight his appointment. Both applicants feel sure of winning out.

It is pretty sure, however, to be time wasted by these Republicans, for if there is anything in signs, Mr. Wm. Jennings Bryan will appoint the next postmaster for Paris, and you can gamble on it not being either of the present applicants.

Lead Ore Discovered.

Mr. W. L. Piper, a prominent farmer of Carlisle, exhibited in that city what is considered a fine sample of high grade lead ore which he said was found on his farm in Nicholas county. The find is particularly of great interest in that section, coming as it does so soon after the reported find of valuable ore on the farm of Mr. Alfred Hildreth, near the Licking river, in Nicholas county. Although these farms are possibly fifteen or twenty miles apart there seems to be no doubt that there are rich deposits of ore in different portions of the county. Mr. Hildreth has sunk his shaft between twenty and thirty feet and is now working two hands.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well-known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said 'There is a woman sick up to death in the car.' I at once got up and went out found her very ill with cramp colic her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them and with a death like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well-known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out found her very ill with cramp colic her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them and with a death like look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles, and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. New trial bottles, 25c.; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

G. S. VARDEN & SON, Paris Ky

Stamps of Peace and War.

The republic of Hayti easily takes first rank in warlike display upon its stamps. Its stamps literally breathe war, with cannon, ammunition, small arms and flags prominently displayed. On the contrary, the island colony of Nevis, in the West Indies, the birthplace of Alexander Hamilton, teaches peace and charity. Its stamps depict the "good Samaritan" administering aid and comfort to a fallen comrade.

Habit of the Postman.

Why is it that the postman never stops at your house when you are expecting a check and always does when you are expecting a bill?

Plaything of Fate.

"Fate is a funny thing," says the Philosopher of Polly. "I know a man who was driven to writing poetry by having a girl jilt him. His next sweetheart jilted him when she read the poetry."

Imagination's Prick.

The thing that makes the trouble is not so much what actually happens, but what we fear may happen, and it is fear and imagination that cause panics.—Charles Austin Bates.

The MacGillycuddy.

It was a saying of that interesting and bulky member of parliament, The O'Gorman Mahon, that there were only three individuals entitled to the prefix "the." They were himself, the pope and the—well, the gentleman who is rarely mentioned in polite society. He forgot, however, The MacGillycuddy of the Reeks, whose fifty-sixth birthday occurred recently. He is, if ever there was one, an Irish chieftain and descendant of Irish kings. He owns no longer that fine chain of Kerry mountains known as the Reeks, although he retains the title and also a residence of the same name. The surname MacGillycuddy dates from ancient Roman Catholic times and means the son of the servant (or devotee) of St. Cuthbert, whose name "Cuddy" is an affectionate diminutive. The wives of The MacGillycuddys, as of other feudal Irish chiefs, are always distinguished by the title of "madam."—St. James' Gazette

Leonardo's "Last Supper."

At the request of many artists A. L. Wolynski, the Russian art critic, has been made an honorary citizen of Milan in recognition of his work on Leonardo da Vinci. The letter in which the "unusual honor" is mentioned in Figaro speaks also of the process by which Professor Luigi Covenaghi hopes to arrest the disintegration of Leonardo's "Last Supper." "The whole surface of the great fresco in Santa Maria della Gracia," says the writer, "is a series of flakes which represent the painting, and every flake that falls is so much of the masterpiece. Covenaghi is using a transparent glue with which he hopes to fasten all the loose pieces to their original places, and when that laborious task is completed the cleaning of the picture may take place. Even when restored the fresco will be only a reminiscence of the artist and will not show whether he painted the central figure with or without a beard."

Things Theatrical.

Carlotta Nilsson is to be seen in "Diana of Dobson's."

A dramatization of "Graustark" is shortly to be produced.

William Collier's new play in which he is to star is called "The Patriot."

A revival of "The Prisoner of Zenda" is promised by James K. Hackett for next season.

Choruses of sheath gowned girls are proving attractions in the musical comedies in the west.

Charlotte Walker will succeed Ida Conquest in the leading role of Eugene Walter's play, "The Wolf."

Old Gentleman—Have you any family ties?

Willie—Oh, yes, sir! Father makes me wear all his old ones!

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing hope to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the price ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach is utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Caged Birds in Europe.

There are nearly 3,000,000 caged birds in Europe. In Paris alone there are 100,000 canaries, which cost about $2,000 for seed every day. A special district between Suresne and Corbevoie has been set aside for the cultivation of canary seed, which is expensive.

Name of the Same Color.

In a certain store in Chicago there is a salesman named Green. Small Clarence learned his name and said: "Say, Mr. Green, there's a man living two doors from us who has a name the same color as yours!"

The Point of View.

An indifferent nature? A Satanic principle of things? A good and just God? Three points of view. The second is improbable and horrible. The first appeals to our stoicism. But the third point of view alone can give joy.—Amiel's Diary.

THE PACK PEDDLER.

His Varied Store and a Sale That Was Missed.

I had been thinking that the old style pack peddler was no more or that he existed only in out of the way localities like the Ozark mountains or Philadelphia. I was mistaken. The man with the pack is as common in the farming districts of Illinois as grasshoppers or prickly heat.

The oldest inhabitant in my neighborhood, who lives across the field from me, says that one pack peddler has nested in our part of the country time out of mind. Where he comes from with his assorted conglomeration of dry goods and hardware nobody knows; also where he goes after he has exhibited his wares and turned an honest nickel is a mystery. This general merchandise pedestrian has made a number of descents upon our house in the last year, but if he has no better luck with his other patrons than he has with me he isn't much interested in the banking system of the country.

He evidently has made an exhaustive study of my habits of living, for he always times his visit so that when he arrives all out of breath or any other useful thing he finds me well supplied with the necessities of life and with not a cent in the house. All his visits begin, are carried on and end in the same way.

There comes a knock at the back door just at mealtime. I open the portal and see an overheated individual in the act of crawling from under what at first I take to be our new tar paper henhouse. The apparition quickly shapes itself into our peripatetic retail store, unlimbering for action.

I try to head him off by saying, "There will be nothing today, Alphonso."

Treating this remark with silent contempt, the tradesman begins loosening six buckles and a bed cord.

I watch him a moment and then remark, "You need not take down your shutters and open for business, Felix, my friend, for there is absolutely nothing doing."

"Handkerchief?" he suggests reproachfully.

I shake my head. Then he begins to unpack and lay out his entire stock, naming each article with a rising inflection.

"Suspenders? Felt soles? Clotheslines? Horseshoes? Stove poker? Chimney pots?"

"Have you any watermelon on ice?" I ask.

"No," he replies, quite seriously.

"But here is a fine remnant of watered silk. No? Clothespins? Spectacles? Laundry soap? Toothbrushes? Garden hose? Split shingles? Ax handles? Doormats? Ox yokes? Insect powder?"

"No, no," I say. "I'm sorry, Augustus, but we send to Paris for all our goods."

"Could I sell you a good snow shovel?" asks the anxious salesman.

"No. We have our snow delivered already shoveled."

"Horse blankets?" he insinuates. "No? Collar buttons? Needles? Farming tools? Railroad spikes? Bed slats? Pressed bricks? Barbed wire? Coal bins?"

I leave the door open and go back to the table. After awhile I hear the buckles and straps being adjusted, and when the weary merchant has doined his burden and made a mile or so toward the setting sun I think the incident closed. Then my wife comes downstairs in a breathless state, clutching four pennies in a fevered grasp, and says: "He hasn't really gone? Oh, dear! And I wanted so much to buy white thread to finish my sewing!"—Chicago News.

Royal Chickens of Japan.

"The most beautiful and extraordinary chickens in the world are those bred by the royal family of Japan, the privilege of raising them not being accorded to any of the minkado's subjects," said Mr. L. J. De Courcy of Yokohama. "These chickens are celebrated for the wonderful growth of their tailfeathers, a full grown rooster's tail often reaching a length of twenty feet. The tail is of a lovely deep blue shade, while the body is buff, and about the neck is a white ring. A pair of these chickens has been known to sell to a wealthy Englishman for $1,000 on condition that he would take them out of the country."

"I believe that ere long the species will entirely disappear, as I heard before leaving Japan that it was the intention of his majesty to cease their breeding."—Baltimore American.

Reforming the Head Hunters.

A curious development is in steady progress in the Solomon Islands, the group in the south Pacific which lies to the west of New Guinea, whose people have earned such unenviable notoriety as head hunters. The young men of the tribes in these fertile and beautiful islands are abandoning the historic pursuit which has made them dreaded for centuries in the south seas and are taking to the copra industry. Copra, which is the dried interior of the cocoanut, is valued commercially for the oil which can be pressed from it, and some of the young Solomon Islanders are accumulating considerable wealth by extracting it, though the older generation, to whom head hunting is still the only profession for a gentleman, are said to look down upon them as being "in trade."—London Standard.

of the district are more interested in the efficiency of the man who shall be their nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney than they are in the county from which he hails, and I believe they desire to have an opportunity to vote for the man of their choice, whoever he may be.

"The party law adopted at the last Democratic State convention prescribes that Circuit Court District Committees shall consist of the several chairmen of the county Committee embraced in such district; and that such committee shall have the power to determine the time and manner of nominating the candidates in their respective districts. So, no such power or authority as you propose shall be exercised by the Franklin County Democratic Committee, has been given to any committee.

The counties of Bourbon, Franklin, Scott and Woodford are each as much a part of this Circuit Court district as the several precincts in the county are component parts of the county; and each individual Democrat in the district, it matters not in which county he lives, has a right to express his preference as to who shall be the Democratic nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney in this district.

"I do not believe that even as between you and myself, the Democrats of either county should be disfranchised, as would be the effect, should the method suggested in your letter be adopted.

"I am desirous that each individual Democrat in the district should be given an equal opportunity to vote as to who shall be the Democratic nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney in the district. Each Democrat should be permitted to vote his sentiments, and his vote should be counted as cast. That you or I should be the nominee for office of Commonwealth's Attorney, it is more important that the individual Democrats in the District should feel that they and each of them, after the nomination is made, has had a say in making the Democratic nominee, that their nominee has been fairly chosen by the Democrats of the counties composing the district.

"To the end that there shall be no dissatisfaction among the Democrats in the district, I propose that you, Mr. Fisher, of Bourbon county (who is also a candidate for the nomination to which we aspire) and I, join in asking the Democratic Committee of this Circuit Court District to call a primary election in the district for the nomination of a Democratic nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney.

"Whoever is nominated must in his official capacity serve the whole people of the district. I believe that such a course would give absolute satisfaction to all Democrats. In my proposition there is nothing that takes from any Democrat in the district any right he may have; there is nothing in my proposition that puts it in the power of a few to throttle or control the will of the many.

"The great question in the present presidential campaign in the nation as announced by the peerless Bryan, our Democratic nominee, is 'Shall the People Rule?' It seems to me that we would apply the same principle to the making of our Democratic nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney in this Circuit Court District.

"I make my appeal for this nomination to the rank and file of the Democratic party in all of the counties of the district in which service as such officer is to be rendered. Let us indulge in no political juggling. Let us abide by our party law, and disregard the rights of no Democrat.

"When the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney is made you can rest assured that he shall have my hearty support.

(Signed)

"ROBERT B. FRANKLIN."

"Tiny Mite" Sold.

"Tiny Mite," the "smallest horse in the world," was Wednesday, at Lexington, after spirited auction bidding knocked down to James L. Watkins, president of the Bluegrass fair, who bought him as a speculation, but will, while he owns him, go into the show business himself on a small scale, and will exhibit the pony at the State Fair at Louisville.

With the pony went the tent in which his exhibitor and half-owner, Stephen Driesbach, was murdered and robbed the last night of the Bluegrass fair, and the box in which the pony stood in dumb terror beside Driesbach's cot, and alone saw the murderer beat out the brains of his sleeping master.

The price paid for the whole outfit was $550, the other bidders being H. B. Lambie, of Macon, Ga., half-owner of the pony, and Garrett Welsh of Lexington, who also wanted the animal for show purposes.

TOBACCO NEWS.

Interesting Notes Bearing on the Tobacco Situation—Of Interest to All Tobacco Growers.

NOTICE

To all members of the Burley Tobacco Society:—

Your attention is hereby urgently called to the fact that the by-laws of the Burley Tobacco Society provide that on the last Saturday in September of each year all members of the Society shall meet at 2 p. m. at their respective voting places and shall elect one of their number a delegate to represent his precinct at an election to be held at the County Seat on the first Saturday in October of each year for the purpose of electing a director of this Society.

The precinct delegate not only casts the vote of his constituents in the election of a member of the District Board from his county, but he is also a member of the County Board of Control in his county.

In order that the election shall express the will of the members of the Society, let every member be at the regular precinct voting place at 2 p. m. on the last Saturday in September.

"Look ye out among you men of honest report, full of wisdom, whom ye may appoint over this business:" men of integrity, business ability and public spirit.

Do not neglect this important duty and then complain of results. The future of the Burley Tobacco Society depends upon the character and ability of the men elected on the County Boards of Control and on the District Board at the ensuing elections.

Remember the day, the hour, the place, and the importance of your duty in this election.

All samples of 1907 tobacco should be sent to the central office at Winchester as early as possible. While the days are long and bright, the grading can be done much more satisfactorily than when the weather is cold and the skies dark. It is greatly to the interest of the farmers as well as to the Society that samples be sent as soon as they can be properly prepared.
